HOMER'S NEW RAILWAY

Between San Francisco and Los Angeles

TO BE CONSTRUCTED AT ONCE

The Southern Pacific's New Competitor For Traffic Waiting For Signatures.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Mr. Homer, known to the California public as the manager and one of the principal proprietors of the Stockton, Fresno & Southern railroad, said today that the road was only to extend as far south as Visalia, in Tulare county, going via Stockton and Fresno.

"Our new company, the San Francisco & Atlantic, which has absorbed the old, is organized for the building of a road clear through to Los Angeles, and the actual work of building is about to begin. All contracts for construction have been drawn up and forwarded to New York to be signed. The true backers of the road are eastern men, and the builders desired that they should personally sign the contracts. If I could have induced them to begin work while the papers were going to New York and back grading would already be in progress. They preferred, however, to have everything perfectly shipshape before starting in. The road will be built from Oakland southward to Los Angeles. Of course suitable ferry connection will be provided to San Francisco. The projectors of the new road do not claim that it is to be in itself a competing overland line, but they do say it will compete for travel and traffic between this city and Los Angeles."

Manager Homer still keeps the exact route to be pursued by his road for prudential reasons, merely announcing that it will go by way of Oakland, Stockton, Visalia and Fresno to Los Angeles. He states, however, that practically all of the right of way has already been acquired.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Carlisle made a speech relative to Hale's tariff resolution. His speech, which was fortified by figures and statistics, was that the McKinley tariff act had not within the twenty-seven months covered by the investigation of the sub-committee, reduced the prices of commodities or increased wages. He instanced fifteen general occupations in the protected industries where the average rate of wages had gone up, and fifteen other trades in highly protected industries where wages had gone down. On tin plate he asserted that the McKinley act had paid directly to the Welsh tin plate manufacturers $4'029,760. The McKinley act had proved not for the benefit of American consumers.

Carlisle was followed by Proctor, who attacked some of Carlisle's positions by quotations from an interview with Rogers, managing partner of a Welsh tin plate manufactory, the principal point of which was that the election of Cleveland would be a victory for free trade and the effect would be to reduce American wages to a level with English wages. The senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—At the opening of the house Wheeler of Alabama took Watson of Georgia to task for stating in a campaign pamphlet that drunken members reel through the aisles and drunken members speak on grave issues. Watson declared that every word in the pamphlet was literally true, and he was ready to defend every word. He defied the house to punish him. He said there was not a charge in the paragraph in question that had not been made from the press gallery and circulated throughout the country, and now because he made it, and because ten members of the People's party were in the hands of the tyrannical majority, he was selected as a scapegoat. [Hisses and contemptuous laughter on the Democratic side.] "Then," cried Watson, "if you want to howl me down you can do so, and I will appeal from your tyranny to the fair sense of justice that abides in the hearts of the American people." [Applause on the Republican side.]

Amid many interruptions, Watson continued. He said that the only charges at which Democrats took offense was that the members got drunk at a bar which the house permitted to be run in the basement of the capitol. They had planted the tree, why wonder at its fruit. "This congress," said Watson in conclusion, "can do what it likes about that paragraph, but I stand by it as the exact truth and defy you to contradict it."

Cries of "Name your man" sounded through the hall, but Watson remained impassive.

The incident created much excitement but the members contented themselves with hissing Watson. Committees will be appointed to investigate and report on Watson's charges.

The remainder of the day was spent in discussing over the World's Fair amendment, and a recess finally taken until evening.

Hatch, from the committee on agriculture, today submitted a report on the effect of the present tariff law upon agriculture. It says there has been a steady decline in prices of farm property since the war, while under the same laws other interests had been more remunerative and prosperous. The report insists that under the low tariff of 1846 agriculture enjoyed its greatest prosperity. Reciprocity is denounced as a flimsy attempt to deceive the farmers.

White of Iowa in an additional report says that no class of citizens is so thoroughly handicapped by the protective system as the farmers of the Mississippi valley engaged in raising hogs and cattle.

Funston of Kansas presented a minority report. It says the fact that the Democrats in the house, with a majority of 155, was about to adjourn without any effort to repeal the McKinley law, should settle the question as to whether or not in the opinion of the majority of the house the law is wrong and oppressive.

The Democratic Committee.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Chairman Harrity, of the Democratic National committee, has announced the national executive and campaign committees. Among the members is M. F. Trapey of California, chairman ex-officio; G. F. Sherin, secretary ex-officio. The campaign committee is Calvin S. Brice of Ohio, A. C. Gorman of Maryland, W. M. Bishan of New York, H. B. Smalley of Vermont, M. W. Ransom of North Carolina, B. F. Cable of Illinois, E. C. Wall of Wisconsin, Josiah Quincy of Massachusetts, William F. Harrity of Pennsylvania. It is generally conceded that Calvin S. Brice will be chosen chairman of the campaign committe unless Governor Campbell will accept the position.

ONE SIDE OF IT.

St. John Talks About Liquor and Tariff.

MADISON, Wis., July 29.—Ex-Governor St. John of Kansas, Governor McKinley of Ohio, W. C. Warner of the New York Tariff Reform club, addressed the Monona lake assembly today. Henry Watterson was also to have spoken, but he was taken ill at Chicago.

St. John spoke in the afternoon on protection and tariff. He recited the prohibition arguments and said that under the present system the liquor traffic was growing faster the past three years than ever before. Over counters of the 24,077 saloons in the country $1,507,000,000 were passed the last year. This would pay the national debt. St. John took the position that the whole tariff system was wrong in principal because it levies a burden on what we consume instead of what we possess.

Fifteen or twenty men control today all the means of reaching the markets of the world, and our merchant marine is practically driven from the high seas. The farmers possess less than one-fifth of the wealth of the country compared with five-eighths forty years ago, and the farmer is consoled with the blessed assurance that he is protected. Capital takes $16 net income from a ton of steel, while the gross receipts of labor is but $1.57, and because the laborer refuses to submit to a reduction of 25 per cent capital confronts him with an army of hired Pinkertons, and when he defends his interests he is called a murderer.

In the afternoon Governor McKinley addressed an audience of 15,000 people. Speaking on the question McKinley declared that the country must raise $400,000,000 annually to defray the expenses of the federal government. There were only two ways possible of levying a direct tax, on the people or import duty on the products of foreign nations. There can be no evasion. The nation must adopt one or the other. McKinley dwelt on the disadvantages of a direct tax system, and quoted Jefferson and Madison as the earliest opponents of it in times of peace.

A FRUIT EXCHANGE.

One May Be Organized for San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The monthly meeting of the board of horticulture was held today, Professor C. H. Allen of San Jose occupying the chair.

The report of the committee appointed to consider the possibility of establishing a dried fruit exchange in San Francisco stated that a meeting had been held with fruit growers and others interested to discuss the question on July 7th, and it was the sense of the meeting that the season was too far advanced for the successful promotion of an exchange, but a resolution had been passed asking the co-operation of associations already formed and induce the sending of delegates to a convention to be held in San Jose on November 15th, and then and there organize a dried fruit exchange.

Several members reported verbally as to fruit products and prices, and the general statement was that prices were too low and the product small, with the exception of Bartlett pears, the crop of which was good.

B. M. Lelong brought up the question of the board sending an exhibition of fruit to the food exposition to be held at Madison Square Garden, N. Y., in October next. The only expenses to be incurred would be the cost of space and the care of the exhibits while on exhibition. The expense would be met by assessment, each exhibitor paying his pro rata share and no more.

The chairman appointed A. C. Bancroft, Howard Overacker and J. H. Shutte a committee to nominate officers for the next year, and the meeting adjourned.

Lindley For Congress.

SANTA CRUZ, July 29.—The Republican convention for the Sixth congressional district assembled this morning. R. M. Shackelford was chosen chairman. The preliminary work was rapidly passed over and Hervey Lindley of Los Angeles, and Judge McGee of Pasadena, were placed in nomination for congress. The ballot resulted in sixty-six votes for Lindley and sixteen for McGee. The vote of all the counties in the district except Los Angeles was solid for Lindley. The poll of the Los Angeles delegation showed twenty-six for Lindley and sixteen for McGee. Several speeches were made and the convention adjourned sine die.

Baseball.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—San Jose played a perfect fielding game today, but they lost the game by a score of 7 to 5. The game was nicely contested for five innings, but in the seventh the Friscos bunched six hits and made 4 runs. Hits, San Francisco 14, San Jose 10. Errors, San Francisco 4, San Jose 0. Batteries, Hoffman and Spies, Lookabaugh and Clark.

Los Angeles—Oakland could not bat today and lost the game by a score of 10 to 4. Oakland, errors 4, hits 8; Los Angeles, errors 1, hits 7. Batteries, Horner and Wilson, Balz and Newman.

A Dangerous Man.

PITTSBURG, July 29.—Alexander Bergman, the anarchist who attempted to assassinate Frick, was given a hearing this afternoon, and was held for trial at the September session in $24,000 bonds. Bergman said it was not true that he tried to shoot Leishman. "I did not want to touch anyone but Frick. I meant to kill him."

Determined to Die.

PORT COSTA, July 29.—Charles Dinnan, a stevedore, suicided at the Ferry Exchange hotel this morning in a shocking manner. The instrument used was a razor, and he not only cut his throat but disemboweled himself and gashed his intestines into shreds. The cause was unknown.

HOT AND COLD WEATHER

New York Has Another Sultry Day.

AND SCORES ARE PROSTRATED

Rain Cools Chicago, While Frost Nips the Resident of the North.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The heat continues insufferable. In the lofty, well ventilated offices the mercury marks 90 degrees; in the overlike streets over 100. Up to 11.30 this morning there have been 42 deaths from sunstroke and a large number of prostrations.

Last night was a sleepless one to most of the city dwellers, the temperature not going below 80.

Over 200 horses have died of the heat since Monday.

The heat continued unabated throughout the entire day and evening. Up to midnight 107 prostrations were reported with 40 deaths.

In Brooklyn there were 27 deaths.

Frost Up North.

ST. PAUL, July 29.—Specials covering a stretch of territory to Iowa, show that a cold spell has broken out. The temperature fell twenty degrees in as many minutes in Iowa and points northward.

At Great Falls, Mont., the mercury dropped twenty degrees in five minutes, with frost.

In Iowa the fall in the temperature was accompanied by a heavy rain storm.

Cooling Off.

CHICAGO, July 29.—A decided drop in the temperature, accompanied by a rainstorm, occurred here during the night.

At 10 this morning the signal service thermometer registered 59 degrees, a fall of 30 degrees.

During five days of hot weather, beginning Sunday, there were 90 deaths from sunstroke in this city and 500 prostrations.

Thunder and Lighting.

PITTSBURG, July 29.—A severe thunder storm passed over here this afternoon doing great damage. Two negroes named Richardson and Castle sought shelter under a tree and were struck by lightning and killed. Several houses struck were badly damaged, and a number of persons stunned and fatally hurt.

Relief at Last.

PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—Twenty-nine deaths were added to the results of the hot weather today, but relief is now at hand. There was a thunder storm tonight and the temperature has fallen several degrees.

WANTED TO DIE.

The Desperate Deed Attempted by a Mexican.

SACRAMENTO, July 29.—This afternoon as the Placerville train was coming into the city a Mexican named Jacob Alcarez, with his 4-year-old son in his arms, threw himself on the track in front of the locomotive, his intention being to suicide and kill the child.

Engineer Hanford did a remarkable feat. He reversed the engine and clapped on the air brake, stopping the train within a distance of six feet. Jack screws were got out and the locomotive had to be raised before the man and child could be liberated.

Strange to say neither were killed, although both were terribly mangled about the head and face.

Alcarez's wife died in child birth a week ago, and he has been despondent ever since. They came here from San Jose last February. Both will recover.

Bodies Found.

SAN DIEGO, July 29.—Word was received from Campo today that the party which had gone to the desert after the bodies of S. F. Breedlove and F. T. Fish, had accomplished their purpose, and also succeeded in finding the body of C. W. Breedlove, nearly a mile beyond that of his father. The party left Campo for this city this evening and will arrive tomorrow night.

His Accounts Were Straight.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—A young man fell overboard from the ferry boat last Wednesday and was drowned. A description of him answers that of John Heath, cashier of the San Francisco office of the Oregon Development company, who disappeared on Wednesday. His accounts were all straight and it is supposed he fell overboard accidentally.

A NEGLECTED VINEYARD.

Why Lulu of That Name Wants a Divorce.

Lulu C. Vineyard used to be her name, so she went very naturally to Fresno, the great raisin district of the state, where she soon became Mrs. Willis Rand, says the San Francisco Report. Lulu has returned from the semi-tropical fruit belt and now wants to resume her maiden name.

Some more facts were reported today to Judge Wallace by the court commissioner who heard the divorce case. Mrs. Rand represents that she was married in December, 1890, and that her husband has contributed nothing toward her support since they enjoyed the honeymoon.

In consequence of his neglect she alleges that she had to go back to her parents and live at 14 Turk street, this city. The neglected wife is only 19 years of age.

TARIFF, WAGES AND PRICES.

Sixteen months ago a committee of the United States senate was appointed to investigate the effect of our tariff legislation upon wages and prices. The committee is a very strong one, containing as its Republican members Senators Aldrich, Allison, Hiscock and Jones of Nevada, and as its Democratic members two of the ablest members of the minority, Senators Harris and Carlisle.

The object of the committee was not a partisan one. It was appointed, not to gather campaign material for either party, but simply to get at the facts necessary for an intelligent judgment of the effects of our tariff. All the members of the committee acted in entire harmony throughout the session, and the report they present is a unanimous one, signed by every member of the committee. This fact gives to the report an additional value. Its figures are final, and cannot be impugned. They must serve for years to come, as the basis upon which tariff arguments will rest.

The report presented deals with six different branches of investigation: The retail and wholesale prices of 215 articles of general consumption in various parts of the country at the end of each month during the period covered; the prices of agricultural products and rates of wages in this country and in Great Britain. The results may be summarized briefly:

First—There has been a general and continuous decline in prices of articles of common use—in the necessaries of life—ever since the passage of the McKinley bill.

Second—There has been a general and continuous advance in the prices obtained for agricultural products, an advance, altogether, of nearly 20 per cent.

Third—There has been a slight advance in the rate of wages in fifteen general occupations.

Fourth—The average wages in England of skilled and unskilled workmen in nine different occupations are 56.52 per cent of the average wages paid in this country for similar work.

There is no comfort for Democrats in these facts. They show conclusively that the American tariff has accomplished all, and more than all, that was expected and predicted of it by its advocates. More especially they show what an inestimable boon it has been to our farmers. Facts always have been, and are now, the best possible arguments for the policy of protection to American industries, American labor and American homes.

THE PENSION GROWL.

There is a class of people, principally politicians of the Cleveland stripe, who find fault with the expense attached to the pension bureau of the government, and just now an article is going the rounds charging that over 1000 foreigners have been substituted by fraud for soldiers who have died and who never drew pensions. While there is such a thing as overdoing so good a thing as the matter of pensions, and while there are no doubt some ex-soldiers drawing pensions who are not entitled to them, the above statement is both false and foolish. In discussing this matter the vetoes of Cleveland while President are often and groundlessly referred to as acts of an honest and fearless statesman, whose only aim and object was to protect the people's treasury from fraud and extravagance; but the most illogical reasoning is presented by one writer who charges that the prevailing hard times are the result of the disbursement of $140,000,000 on account of pensions to soldiers each year.

The exercise of a small grain of common sense would have saved that political philosopher from making an ass of himself by uttering such a statement. He did not, evidently, permit either his brain or conscience to work while his pen was inditing such a foolish statement, for the men who draw pensions are the ones who disburse money from pure necessity, and a large proportion of the coin in actual circulation comes from the pension bureau. The money that flows through this one avenue becomes the property of the people more readily and certainly than from any other source, and the people should be thankful that, while the government is able to pay these claims, the circulation in the marts of trade feel the pulse that is kept beating by the distribution of this $140,000,000 annually, which means $11,666,666 monthly, or almost $400,000 per day.

This is much more beneficial to the people at large than the money disbursed by the government for contracts in ship building, harbor improvements or work on public buildings, as in these instances where millions are employed, the contractors and political bosses usually pocket the surplus after meagre wages are paid and political assessments are made.

RECKLESS FREE TRADERS.

The free trade newspapers are becoming reckless in their statements. Driven from their position that the tariff is a tax on the consumer by the now thoroughly established fact that the cost of manufactured commodities has decreased in this country under the McKinley tariff, they are trying to regain a foothold for argument in some direction, and in many instances are striking out blindly and without apparent regard for consequences. For instance, the Expositor of last evening says:

There is not a raisin grower in this valley who will seriously contend that the McKinley bill has benefited the raisin industry. Everybody knows that raisins have been lower since the passage of the McKinley bill than ever before.

There is absolutely no foundation for the above statement so far as it relates to the prevailing sentiment of the raisin growers. To the contrary, the Expositor cannot find in the entire San Joaquin valley a half dozen raisin growers who will consent to the slightest reduction of the tariff on foreign raisins.

The result of the tariff on raisins has undoubtedly been, as its tendency is in other things, to increase the American industry until home competition has lowered the price to consumers below that formerly enjoyed by the foreign monopoly, but it by no means follows on that account that the home industry would not be damaged by a removal of the tariff.

Spanish raisins prior to the birth of the California industry enjoyed a very profitable monopoly. They were sold at prices which made them a luxury of the rich rather than an article of general consumption. The California industry has grown to such proportions that the prices of both the foreign and domestic article has been reduced to a point that places it within the reach of the masses, and still the foreign grower has the advantage of labor which costs less than one-half the lowest wages paid in California, and without the tariff he could unquestionably undersell and drive from its home market the product of the California raisin grower.

For these sufficient reasons the California raisin grower universally demands a continuation of the present tariff. The exceptions are not divided from the body of producers by political lines. They can be counted upon the fingers of one hand, and are composed exclusively of politicians who are seeking preferment from the Democratic party.

The Expositor does the raisin growers of California a serious injustice by thus flagrantly misrepresenting their views.

Of all the sorrow which men are forced to bear in this world, says the Tulare Register, that of L. B. Ruggles, father of the brothers lynched at Redding, must be the greatest. Let the mind run back to the days of babyhood when the father first took his own offspring into his arms; the pride, the happiness, the love he bore for the tiny mites of humanity; the tender caressing of the mother who bore them. The watchful care during tender years; the fatherly solicitude as they were coming toward the estate of manhood; the feeling cherished that these were to be his stays and props during his declining years—and, after all, hung by a mob at Redding. Can the mind of man conceive a more supreme disaster befalling any man born in this world? Human sympathy is weak and impotent in such an emergency, and yet, Mr. Ruggles' neighbors and friends will do what they can to help him bear his burden. God pity the father and vouchsafe him a consolation which is not in the power of man to bestow.

The outlook for the raisin growers is an improvement on the most sanguine expectations of sixty days ago. The remnant of last year's crop is selling at advanced figures, and the market will be practically clear for the new crop. The general shortness of the fruit crop will increase the demand for raisins, and fair prices are now assured. With honest, conscientious methods on the part of packers and dealers the market for California raisins can be extended this season, and the way opened for the disposal of larger crops in the future.

The selecting of juries in the interest of Chinatown criminals may secure the political support of the maquereau element, but it will not find favor among reputable citizens. The people who apparently believe they can spit upon the law with impunity will learn their mistake in due season.

The sudden decrease in the torrent of abuse that was pouring down upon Judge Church from the Democratic gutterways it is feared will lessen that gentleman's majority by several hundred votes. Had it continued during the campaign the Judge's election would have been practically unanimous.

The Santa Cruz Surf appears to be rolling on the shores of time now-a-days in the interest of the People's party. It was formerly Democratic in politics.

CAN-O
Rheumatism
That Is The Question. BE CURED?
—Will say Most Emphatically—
YES!
The greatest difficulties that honest and legitimate remedies have to contend with is the charlatan and fakir. He comes with blowing trumpet and gilded coach to impose upon the people his worthless nostrums, and when they have been fooled they lose faith in the good as well as the bad.
We offer you a sure safe and reliable cure to all who are suffering from Rheumatism and Neuralgia—PARADISE PILLS AND BITTERS. It never fails when applied as it should be. Many of the best citizens of Fresno county can testify to its merits. Try it. If it does not do what we claim we ask no pay.

FRESNO THE FAIR

Greeted With Sweet Words From Wisconsin.

AS SEEN BY STRANGER EYES

The Variety of Productions and Fertility of Soil the Salient Features.

The following editorial opinion of Fresno appeared in the Daily State Gazette, published at Green Bay, Wis. The article is from the pen of Mrs. Rosamund Follett, one of the National Editorial Association that visited Fresno recently:

Leaving Los Angeles that evening we arrived at Fresno the next morning in time for breakfast. The entire day was given to Fresno, and the welcome in way of temperature was the warmest that had so far been tendered us, it being somewhere in the neighborhood of 100 degrees in the shade, and exceptional for the season of the year. The city of Fresno and the county of the same name furnish some very interesting statistics, and while in the main in the account of the trip through California so far, the reader has not been surfeited with figures to any degree, a few statistics concerning this remarkable county and city will, it is safe to presume, be enjoyed. The county has an area of 8093 square miles, 5,000,000 acres, and is larger than the state of Maine. It occupies a broad valley, with the Sierras on the east and the coast range on the west.

UNLIMITED PRODUCTS.

The most remarkable feature of this vast territory is, however, the products of its soil ranging from those of the temperate zone to those of the tropics. Let me enumerate some of them to illustrate: Wheat, oats, barley, potatoes, alfalfa and all kinds of vegetables; fruits of this latitude flourish beside those of the fig, lemon, lime and orange trees; cotton, hops, tobacco, sorghum are successfully raised. Large quantities of fruit, fresh and dried, are shipped annually from Fresno county. The raisin industry of the state centers here as more than half of the raisin grapes grown in California are produced here. In 1892 boxes and sacked raisins equaled 1,200,000 boxes, valued at $1,500,000. The grain, wheat and barley, harvested last year was 175,000 tons, valued at $3,200,000. Other resources are numerous and the figures accompanying each are something remarkable, but cannot be given at this time.

DEMOCRATIC HEAT.

Fresno, the county seat, has a population of about 11,000 and is the center of the wine, wool, raisin and fruit industries of the great San Joaquin valley. The city presented a most attractive appearance the day of our arrival as the business portion, which is substantial in character, was profusely and finely decorated in honor of the Democratic convention which was in session during our stay in the city. We of the "other persuasion" thus readily accounted for the high and unusual temperature already noted. Of the drive of ten miles or more into the country to the vineries and vineyards, which the majority of our party participated in, I can speak only from hearsay as Mrs. B. J. Price and myself considered it the "better part of valor" to haunt cool and sequestered spots, in which we were not alone in choice. A pleasant shopping expedition rewarded us with some pleasant acquaintances and memory recalls some very courteous and obliging clerks who patiently answered questions that must have been oft times repeated to them.

WONDERFUL DEVELOPMENT.

Upon the return of the party from the drive they assembled at the opera house, a pleasant and cool spot, where a number of excellent speeches were made. A portion of a very bright and impromptu one, delivered by B. J. Rice of Hudson, Wis., lingers in memory and, is worthy of reproduction here, and if imperfectly given, may be pardoned, as it is retained in memory only.

In speaking of the wonderful growth of the cities visited, of the enterprise displayed and the splendid type of men and women we met in California, Mr. Price said it reminded him of the story of the building of a grand cathedral, whose stained glass windows were each to be designed by artists of renown, each trying to outdo the other; finally one artist said he would take the pieces of glass left from the other windows after their completion and from those he produced the most beautiful and famous window of all. This seemed to illustrate the grand state of California; her development was due to the efforts of men who came from Maine, New York, Ohio, Wisconsin, all of the states of the Union—and the result was like that of the window noted.

BEAUTIFUL WAITRESSES.

The banquet which followed was a superb one and could not be equalled, it is safe to say, outside of the state of California. Beautiful women, who would adorn the social circle of any place in this fair world, took upon themselves unwonted tasks, and served their guests throughout the meals untiringly, giving it thereby a zest that nothing else could have added. Fair country, fair Fresno, fair ladies and gallant men! there lingers a fond hope that at some future time it may be my pleasure to again visit this hospitable and delightful region!

A VOICE FROM TENNESSEE.

By a curious law of chance, just as the above paragraph was ready to go into type, Will M. Guthrie of the Calumet paper company, Chicago, who has been for the past eleven years in their employ on the Pacific coast, with headquarters at San Francisco, called at the State Gazette office, and it was soon revealed that while for the present he has been recalled by the company to look after their interests in this territory, his "heart is true" to Fresno, of which he was most enthusiastic in its praise, and he supplied some missing links in a most satisfying manner. Mr. Guthrie is a native of Tennessee, and he states that a great many Tennesseans have located at Fresno and that vicinity. This accounted to me for the southern flavor and style of architecture, which was so palpable and apparent, and yet not readily understood while there.

CALIFORNIA FOR INVESTMENT.

In response to the inquiry (that I put whenever chance offered in California) what his idea was as to the advantage which California offered for investment and for young men to locate, aside from its unsurpassed climate and many beautiful sites, he replied: For a young man who wants to succeed (and what he said applies in Green Bay as well as elsewhere throughout the United States) there is no way but what the way is open. He took Fresno for an example of location, and friends of his as an illustration. He said they went into the vineyards as day laborers, worked hard, gave up all social life so called, and attended strictly to business, learned it, and when its rudiments were mastered, purchased 20 acres or so of land and worked at that at intervals while still holding the position noted.

INCREASED LAND VALUES.

Land that could be bought for $25 an acre would be worth considerably more after three years' labor had been put upon it and by the time the lesson had been learned these vineyards would begin to be productive, and a living for its owner assured. These young men wore no elaborate toilets and gratified no expensive tastes, and were inspired by the motives already indicated—that of getting ahead and not being afraid of work. And, by the way, Fresno has reason to be proud of this intelligent, courteous advocate of hers, Mr. Guthrie, who has no axe to grind other than was evident, no motive other than his honest, eloquently expressed faith in the city, county and their inhabitants.

THE GREAT SHOCK.

HE TELLS ABOUT HIS INFLUENTIAL JOURNAL

And Intimates That Mr. Clark Is a Very Poor Collector of Old Bills.

The Great Shock, the Scandinavian orator, journalist, actor and man of affairs, denies the charge that the Scandinavian dramatic club were compelled to pay $6 on the occasion of a performance given under the management of the Great Shock, as the following card will show:

"We, the undersigned, members of the Scandinavian dramatic club of Fresno, Cal., having read an article in THE FRESNO DAILY REPUBLICAN of July 29th, in which it is stated that we were compelled to pay the sum of $6 on the occasion of a performance given by us under the management of Mr. Shock, we desire that the people of this county should know that such statement is absolutely false."

(Signed) O. J. Dan, C. M. Jacobson, F. K. Lundgreen, M. Rasmussen and Martin Sondergaard.

It is to be regretted that the card is not a little more explicit. It simply denies that they paid the sum of $6 at the same time leaving the reader in doubt as to whether it was not $5.00.

Mr. Shock, with that cheerful candor that makes his conversation so charming, stated last night to a REPUBLICAN reporter that he did not accept the copies of the paper printed by Clark & Lake because they had not suitable type with which to print the paper. He had to send to San Francisco to have his printing done.

"If Mr. Clark wanted that $5 that he says I owe him, all he had to do was to ask me for it and I would give it to him right away," added Mr. Shock.

Respecting the paper which he is about to print as a campaign organ Mr. Shock said that the paper would not be printed in Fresno, but in Minneapolis. It will be a weekly paper and will continue during the campaign. So says Mr. Shock.

Shock still claims to be a Republican and explains his preference for L. O. Stephens, the Democratic candidate for coroner, by saying that he could not secure the election of Yancey, the Republican candidate, because Yancey shot his landlord. Mr. Shock evidently believes that the doctor's strongest recommendation for the Irish home rule vote would not be any recommendation at all for the Scandinavian vote which Shock claims is controlled by him in the interest of Mr. Stephens' five dollar piece.

Perhaps Shock is mistaken about carrying the Scandinavian vote in his vest pocket. They are too intelligent to be owned by any one man.

A CONTEMPTIBLE ACT.

Two Respectable Madera Women Grossly Insulted.

On Sunday night some one posted a notice on the door of the Christian church which reflected on the character of two ladies of this city. The notice was worded in language too indecent for publication and advised the ladies named to move into the disreputable quarter. It is not known who the party was who posted the notice, says the Madera Mercury, but several people who saw it have a strong suspicion who the writer is, and they say if their suspicions are confirmed the guilty party may have reason to regret the contemptible act.

The ladies mentioned in the notice are said to be respectable people and feel greatly mortified that any reflection should be cast on their character.

The people in the neighborhood are highly indignant and stigmatize the act as outrageous and a direct insult to the public. It has been suggested that the author, if discovered, be given a ride out of town on a rail.

TAKEN TO TASK.

Mlle. Arsenic Blamed by "Fair Play"

FOR BEING TOO SENSATIONAL

The Truth Told About That Alleged Escapade at Hanford of Several Fresnoans.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—In an article appearing in last Sunday morning's REPUBLICAN, contributed by "Mlle. Arsenic," under the heading of "Fresno's Social Swim," there appeared a paragraph beneath the caption of "A Mild Sensation" reflecting in a roundabout, cunning, picayunish way upon the actions of a certain trio of Fresno's most respectable young ladies' making a visit to Hanford, accompanied by two young gentlemen of Fresno, and being joined at the "other end of the line" by a "third young Fresnoan," who had "no doubt gone ahead to make necessary arrangements," etc.

Now, as a disinterested spectator, and as one who is well acquainted with the respectability as well as the disrespectability of Fresno's society, and one in favor of fair play in all things, I wish to protest against the recklessly indiscriminate and misleading insinuations in the paragraph referred to.

Of course, I thoroughly appreciate the fact that "Sister Arsenic" is not altogether to blame in the matter, but that a certain misleading and irresponsible personage of a lying and jealous disposition is responsible for said misinformation; and such being the case, it is nothing but just and right that a few remarks should be made in behalf of the parties so disrespectfully referred to in the above mentioned article.

In the beginning I wish to acknowledge the fact that "Mlle. Arsenic" has during her reign made quite a number of handsome and well deserved rebukes to certain society movements, but a few times too often of late has she allowed herself to be led astray by the vile misinformation of one or two maligning and designing would-be informants on social topics, instead of thoroughly investigating matters before grinding out her copy. And viewing the matter in this light I wish to be allowed space for a few brief sentences in reply to the said scandal monger's vituperative insinuations.

In the first place it reads that in a "certain strata" of Fresno society a mild sensation was caused by an "escapade Saturday evening of three young women of this city, accompanied by two young men," and that they "walked boldly to the depot, entered the south bound train and were soon speeding toward Hanford." Continuing, the article states that after arriving there their number was made even by their being joined by a "third young Fresnoan, who had gone down in advance, no doubt to make some necessary arrangements," etc., etc.

Now, in the name of common decency and respectability I wish to ask the meaning of, and at the same time give the definitions generally appended to such insinuations: A "certain strata" of Fresno society! That means of a "doubtful degree," etc. "Escapade!" That means that they went without the consent of their parents or guardians. "Three young women!" etc. Why not have said three young "ladies?" "Walked boldly to the depot." Why should they have run or walked timidly? "Entered the south bound train!" Why not? "And a few minutes later were speeding toward Hanford!" What is the matter with Hanford?

The fact of the business is that three of as respectable young ladies as Fresno contains, accompanied by two as respectable young gentlemen as there are in this city, paid a visit to friends and relatives and old acquaintances in Hanford. They had the full consent of their parents and guardians. They walked "boldly" to the depot, having a clear conscience, and not having as yet been contaminated by poisonous arsenical fumes. They took the south bound train because Hanford is south, and at Hanford they were met by a "third young Fresnoan." What is the matter with Fresnoans, anyway? There is not a more respectable young man in the Raisin Center than the one herein referred to. And then they say he had gone "in advance" to make "necessary arrangements," etc. He is a young man of extensive business interests in both towns, and had been at Hanford about two months looking after his business affairs. As to "necessary arrangements" being made, etc., none were necessary on their part, as they were there by invitation, and their friends whom they were visiting were amply prepared to fully entertain them.

And "then the fun began." After painting Hanford a "crimson tinge" they visited other towns, etc. What does that mean? Oh! it may mean several things. But here it insinuates improper conduct perhaps in several ways, such as drinking, carousing, etc. Now, in this connection I wish to state that of my own personal knowledge of the affair and from my intimate acquaintance with all the parties concerned therein, and from an investigation of the charges made, I can very truthfully say that there could not have been a more orderly and sober gathering of young ladies and gentlemen. There were no intoxicants or "crimson tinge" in the party, and not one of them uses them, either at home or abroad.

After visiting a number of the elite of Hanford's society, they were shown the beauties of the Lucerne vineyard by L. S. Chittenden, and were then driven back by way of Grangeville and Armona to Hanford, where they were sumptuously dined and entertained by the family of Mr. Gurnee, formerly of Fresno. Then they took the northbound train for Fresno, where they returned to their respective homes, and not the least in propriety thought of, dreamed of or hinted at until the said venomous paragraph unloaded itself upon the public Sunday morning.

The item would have made a very decent society local had the individual names of all who composed the party been given and mention made of the point of destination and object of this visit, etc. But no—a sensation must be created and wonder aroused.

While no names were mentioned in the article it is well known by hundreds of the society people of Fresno who the parties stigmatized are, and for their gratification, Sister "Arsenic" should, with a ladyike grace and consideration ask the pardon of the ladies, as well as the gentlemen, whom she has allowed to be so foully dealt with by the slanderous tongue of another. Adios.

Yours for FAIR PLAY.

THE TRIANGLE CHECKED.

Treasurer McKenzie Refuses to Pay Warrants on the School Fund.

The Triangle has been checked in its effort to spend the $50,000 received from the sale of the high school bonds.

Yesterday several demands on the fund were presented to City Treasurer McKenzie and he refused to pay them. They had been O K ed by the city trustees and were in proper form, but Mr. McKenzie had been advised by competent lawyers, who had no political axes to grind, that the trustees had no authority to expend the money and that Mr. McKenzie's bondsmen might get into trouble if he paid any of the warrants drawn on the school.

This will throw the matter into the courts, where the whole question as to the legality of the bonds will be settled.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

It Was a Unanimous and Harmonious Gathering.

The Republican convention for the Seventh congressional district, consisting of seventy-seven delegates, met at Leeker's hall at 10 o'clock Monday, says the Merced Star:

Judge Nourse, chairman of the executive committee, called the convention to order. There was a full attendance.

The Merced band played lively music and considerable enthusiasm was manifested.

Senator Thomas Flint of San Benito, was elected chairman, and F. A. Miller of Riverside, secretary.

The usual committees were appointed and after the adoption of their reports nominations for congressman were in order.

Judge Nourse in a neat and witty speech placed Hon. W. W. Bowers of San Diego, before the convention.

E. C. Seymour of San Bernardino, seconded the nomination in an eloquent speech of five minutes.

Chairman Flint of San Benito, indorsed Bowers. Every county in the district had a good word for Congressman Bowers, who was renominated by acclamation amid great enthusiasm.

Judge Lace of San Diego, thanked the convention in the name of the nominee, and gave a brief history of the public life of Mr. Bowers.

The following report of the committee on resolutions was adopted:

That in view of the recent adoption by the national Republican convention held at Minneapolis, of a platform of principles, and of the further fact that a state Republican convention for California is to meet tomorrow, which will still further indicate the principles of the Republican party of this state, it is unnecessary for this convention to adopt any resolutions. The Republican party is no unknown quantity. With a brief accidental interval, it has held the reins of government for nearly a third of a century, and we ask only that it, as well as our candidate this day nominated, be judged by its record.

The following dispatch was received from Mr. Bowers in response to a notice of his nomination:

WASHINGTON, July 25, 1892.

I am sincerely grateful to the Republicans of the Seventh district for the honor conferred and the confidence expressed by this renomination. I promise you and them that I will try hard to deserve and maintain both; that I will strive to represent the best interests of the whole district and Republican principles. W. W. BOWERS.

After passing a resolution thanking the people of Merced for courtesies extended the delegates and three rousing cheers for Harrison, Reid and Bowers, the convention adjourned sine die.

BISHOP & GREELEY.

A Petition Filed Asking That They be Declared Insolvent.

In the superior court yesterday afternoon a petition was filed asking that H. Bishop and A. H. Greeley, constituting the firm of Bishop & Greeley, be declared involuntary insolvents.

The petition is signed by the following creditors, the amounts next their names being the sums they claim is due them from the said firm:

Henry Lang, $118.98; Hobbs & Pargons, $80.52; Farmers' Union Milling company, Stockton, $109.15; Hammond & Bates, $12.99; M. Malsbury, $35; Stockton Milling company, $272.80.

The petition allege that none of them has become a creditor of Bishop & Greeley by assignment within thirty days prior to the filing of the petition.

They also allege that Bishop & Greeley were insolvent on July 29, 1892, having permitted their goods to remain under attachment more than four days.

Petitioners pray that the court order said firm to show cause why they should not be adjudged fraulyent debtors, and that a surrender of their estate be made for the benefit of their creditors in the usual way.

BUSY BEES

Dispute Possession of a Hall With Rebekah's Daughters.

Two wash boilers full of honey were taken out from under the floor of the hall in the upper story of the Hanford bank building last Tuesday by Arthur Sharplen and David Davis, says the Hanford Journal. The bees had been working there for several years. The Rebekahs held a meeting in the hall on Thursday night, but the session was short and sweet, as the bees had taken possession of the Rebekahs' "hive of industry" and the latter did not feel like disputing possession.

Human Food for a Saw.

Thomas Bloker, who works a cut-off saw in the planing mill, lost a thumb this morning, says the Madera Mercury. He was at work in the box department, cutting off boards for the ends of boxes. In pushing a board against the saw, his thumb came in contact with the blade and was cut off. Dr. Cline dressed the injured hand.

THE BOND OF HONOR

M. J. Lindrose Quotes it Half a Cent Below Par,

AND MAKES A SUGGESTION

A Forfeit Should be Nominated in the Bond to Keep Growers to Their Compact.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—Yesterday A. D. Barling purchased the 20 acre crop (meaning raisins) of a colonist at 4 cents a pound for the first crop and 3 cents for the second crop. The seller was one of the signers of the raisin growers' compact.

The above item appearing in this morning's issue of your paper goes to prove that the "bond of honor" so much talked about when the growers' petition was issued by the committee is not (as the undersigned at that time remarked) worth, to some people, the paper it is written upon.

If, on the other hand, a forfeit of so much per ton or per acre—as the undersigned then advocated—had been incorporated into the petition the owner of the above mentioned 20-acre crop would not as now have debased his "bond of honor," violated his agreement and gone back on his own signature by selling his raisins as above stated, but he would have remained in the growers' compact and realizing a higher price for his crop, and also at the same time preserved his good name and retained the respect and good will of his fellowmen.

The growers and business men in the state should be informed who the raisin grower is. He gave his "bond of honor" and signature that he would not sell less than 4½ cents per pound, but he has now by his action shown to the world that his "bond of honor" and signature are not worth a cent, and that he not only has lost at least ½ cent a pound on his raisin crop—perhaps a great deal more—than he would have realized if his honor had been of a genuine quality, but he has injured others by lowering the price and lost their respect and good will, as well as disgraced his own reputation.

Let his name be published and execrated and his "bond of honor" despised as a rotten and useless thing throughout the whole land in order that whenever the people in the future are looking for a man upon whom to rely, in the matter of a "bond of honor," they shall be spared the trouble of calling upon him.

Let action be taken at once in the matter by the executive committee of the growers' association.

Let the state convention of the growers which meets in Armory hall at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in this city, show by its action in what estimation it holds men whose honor is not worth a cent. It is hoped that there is not another grower in the state who will thus barter away his own property at a loss, and at the same time be foolish enough to claim to the world by his actions that there is no honor in him, and that he has no regard for obligations made to his fellowman. M. J. LINDROSE.

THE MARCEAU'S

They Are Painting Europe a Brilliant Scarlet.

Colonel and Mrs. Marceau are having a delightful time in Europe and have already painted several old sombre towns a brilliant scarlet.

After having done up Paris in true American style they took in Brussels, Cologne, Mainz, Wiesbaden, Berlin, Copenhagen, Stockholm and St. Petersburg. They celebrated their wedding anniversary in Constantinople on July 9th. They are now on their way through Greece, Italy and Switzerland.

While in St. Petersburg they found a man after their own heart in the person of a beautiful and dashing Russian officer. The three had a hilarious time and were so noisy in their glee that they were gathered in by the Russian police and lectured by the police judge. An account of the affair was printed in the newspapers there and copies were sent to friends of Mr. and Mrs. Marceau, carefully marked with a blue pencil.

They are having a dandy time.

We take pleasure in pronouncing the Kingan ham the equal of any in the market. We have no hesitancy in recommending them. STULTZ BROS. *

THE RAISIN BOOM.

Thirty-three Odd Thousand Acres Represented

FROM ALL OVER THE STATE

The Constitution and By-Laws to be Presented at To-Day's Session of the Convention.

Secretary Harvey of the state raisin growers' convention was pleased yesterday as he patted a bundle of papers about a foot in thickness. They were some of the 7500 circulars forwarded by him to raisin growers throughout the state and had been returned to him in good shape with the signatures of growers.

There were 968 signatures in the batch, representing 33,160 acres out of a grand total in the state of 50,000.

"We will have no difficulty in getting the remainder," said Secretary Harvey, "because meetings are being held in various parts of the state where raisins are grown, and we have received letters from El Cajon and Riverside."

The following is a copy of the letter from El Cajon:

EL CAJON, July 25.

Mr. William Harvey.

Dear Sir—I called a meeting of our raisin growers on the 23d instant. They concurred in the action of the Fresno convention. A committee of four was appointed to get signatures to the petition. We meet again on July 30th. In your list of packers I do not recollect your having the names of Stoultier & Crosby (manager I. Donald, El Cajon). They are Boston men and have between 400 and 500 acres of raisin grapes. Last year they only packed their own. W. W. Scott of El Cajon will probably open a packing house, representing eastern capital. R. C. Allen of El Cajon graded and packed 2000 or more acres last year and talks of doing the same this year. Charles Leslie & Co. have packed here for two years. It may be well to add these to your list of packers. Respectfully yours,

G. M. HAWLEY.

Of the 17,080 acres, the owners of which have not yet signed the contract, the majority are owned in large tracts, by comparatively few owners, the small owners having all come in. For instance, A. B. Butler owns 600 acres in Muscat vines in this county, and there are a good many elsewhere who own tracts of 300 acres and more. Mr. Butler has already stated his intention to join the organization, and the others will come in soon.

The contract entered into between the growers and the packers is to the effect that the growers shall not dispose of their products at less than 4½ cents per pound in the sweat box, and that the packers when selling on commission shall not sell at a price that will net the grower anything less than 4½ cents.

There are only a few of the packers that have not yet signed the compact. Williams, Brown & Co., one of the heaviest packing firms, signed the agreement yesterday.

"When they found that we had more than 30,000 acres," said Mr. Harvey, "they felt that they could not stand out against so large a combination of growers. The only people that are giving us any trouble now are Cook & Langley. They have not replied to any of the circulars sent them and their representative did not attend any of our meetings. We will have practically the whole of the packers of this county if we get these."

The state raisin growers' convention will meet at 10 o'clock this morning at Iroquois hall and will receive the report of the committee appointed to make arrangements for a permanent state organization. The committee will present a constitution and by-laws for adoption, and it is therefore of great importance that every raisin grower interested in the movement should attend and express his opinion on the matter.

My Debts Must be Paid Immediately

And in order to do so I offer at very low figures 60 acres of fine land as a whole, or in 20-acre tracts.

No. 1—20 acres; 13 acres bearing vines; 2 acres alfalfa, balance unimproved.

No. 2—20 acres; 16 acres bearing vines, 1½ acre alfalfa; a few choice peach trees and 200 blackberries, balance unimproved.

No. 3—20 acres; 9 acres bearing vines; 50 apricots, a little alfalfa; small stable and house, balance unimproved. All fenced with woven wire; price low and terms good, but purchaser must have some cash. Fair commission to anyone bringing me a purchaser.

WILLIAM HARVEY CHANCE.

The Fresno Banker Died in San Francisco Yesterday.

A telegram was received in this city yesterday afternoon announcing that William Harvey Chance died at 3 o'clock in St. Mary's hospital.

Mr. Chance was an old resident of this county and had a large circle of friends. He was vice president of the First National bank and was a capable and popular official.

For some months past his health had been rapidly failing, and by the advice of his physician, who informed him that he was suffering from that incurable malady, Bright's disease of the kidneys, he started with his son for a trip to the Sandwich Islands in the hope that the sea voyage and a sojourn in Hawaii would recuperate his strength. But the insidious disease had taken too strong a hold upon his system to be dissipated even by the balmy breezes of the Isles of the Blest, and instead of his health getting better it grew worse.

He was so weak when he returned to San Francisco that he had to be carried off the boat to a carriage. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital, where he peacefully passed away from earth.

The deceased was a native of Missouri and 52 years old.

RANK TREASON.

A BRIGADIER GENERAL SUED BY A MERE MAJOR.

Major Marcus Pollasky May Be Court-martialed and Shot for His Audacity.

The San Joaquin Valley Railway company is gradually paying up for its rights of way between Fresno and Pollasky, and is trying to collect the subscriptions that were promised by certain public spirited citizens for the purpose of securing the right of way.

Yesterday the company brought suit through its attorney, L. L. Cory, and L. W. Moultrie in Justice Prince's court against General W. M. Muller of the National Guard of the state of California to recover $50, alleged to have been subscribed by the Fresno warrior on May 16, 1891.

The general is one of a very few subscribers who have refused point blank to pay up, and he has been selected as the first victim for a test case.

This will complicate matters prodigiously. Major Marcus Pollasky is an officer on General Muller's staff, and he is also president and largest owner of the San Joaquin Valley railway.

Think of the alarming complication! The major sues the general. Rank sacrilege, insubordination and treason, punishable by nothing short of a courtmartial, a shaved head, forfeiture of pay and drumming out of the service.

The general has five or ten days to file his answer, and when it is filed it will screech with no uncertain sound.

SCHOOL MATTERS.

Date of the Beginning of the Term. Bonds to be Voted.

County Superintendent of Schools T. J. Kirk and two reporters are busy preparing for the approaching school term. Though the superintendent has no authority to order when the various schools in the county shall begin this term, he may suggest a date, and recommends that they begin on September 12th.

The $6000 bonds for the Caruthers district have been defeated. There will be another election on the matter of issuing bonds, however, and for a smaller amount this time. The defeat before was due to Caruthers and others, who wanted $20,000 voted for a school building.

A. C. Barker, a graduate of one of the eastern colleges, and also of the Stanford university, has been chosen principal of the Washington Union high school. He is said to be a first class educator.

Many applications for positions as teachers are being received by the superintendent. Of course there is no room for them. If the examinations were made stricter there would be fewer and better teachers.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

In Honor of Misses Jessie Fairman and Millie Myers.

The residence of T. W. Fairman, corner of Clark and McKenzie avenues, was the scene of a delightful party Thursday evening, the occasion being the celebration of the twenty-first birthday of the Misses Jessie Fairman and Millie Myers.

The evening was spent in conversation, singing and games. A delicious supper was served at 10.30 o'clock in the tastefully decorated dining room.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Fairman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cronkhite, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Myers, Mrs. Richard Dunn, Mrs. E. P. Naylor, Messrs. L. M. Bowen, J. Leister, T. Lippencott, Frank of Watsonville, Carlisle of Oakland, A. J. Brooke of Michigan, Will Mills, Elmer Coney, Hugh Fairman, Misses Edith Naylor, A. L. Brooke, Grace Darling of Malaga, Will Morton, Ethel Dunn, Alice Morton, Nora Bossey, Lena Dunn and others.

A Popular Comedian.

On Monday evening next the patrons of the drama will have an opportunity of seeing the immensely funny farce comedy, "Hoss and Hoss," introducing the great popular Californian comedian, Charley Reed.

To most all theater goers the man who was the originator of the immortal "Tamale" song is well and favorably known and his appearance here will undoubtedly be the means of a large gathering at the Barton on Monday evening. Mr. Reed will sing the "Tamale" song.

War in Holland.

W. Ketjin, a Hollander, got into a dispute the other day with A. Balkenstein about methods of irrigation, and drew a knife on Balkenstein, so Balk says.

Ketjin was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace and on another of assault with a deadly weapon. He gave bonds in Justice Prince's court in the sum of $600 and was released from custody.

A Restive Horse.

A. C. Balch of Lone Star came to Fresno yesterday. While he was hitching up his horses they became frightened and started to run away. The halter rope became tangled about Balch's feet and he was thrown violently to the ground. His right arm was badly bruised and strained and temporarily disabled.

IN HIS OLD CELL.

VINCENT FEELS AT HOME ONCE MORE.

He Has No Complaint Now, However, Baird Being With the Other Prisoners.

Dr. F. O. Vincent was returned to his old cell yesterday afternoon. The supreme court having affirmed the decision of the lower court, it was thought best to give his cell a thorough examination to see whether he had hidden anything with which he could take his life.

While Vincent occupied another cell, his old one was arranged so that he could be better watched. Gas has been put in the cell, and the iron plate door replaced by one of grating. Jailer Moore now watches him in the day time and Boc Hensley at night.

Vincent still refuses to talk about his case, but from remarks he lets drop now and then he evidently believes he will escape the gallows.

He has been anxiously watching the proceedings in the case of Bruggy, the Santa Rosa murderer, but the result of the latter's attorney's appeal to the United States circuit court will not encourage him very much.

The case was appealed on the same old question as to where the execution should take place. Bruggy's attorney held that the law of March 31, 1891, which required a man condemned to death to be executed at one of the state prisons, repealed all former laws, and is therefore asked that his client be discharged.

Judge McKenna stated that while the effect of the new law was to repeal the old one, the repeal was prospective, not retrospective. "Offenses committed prior to the repeal must be governed by the law as it stood before the repeal; any other construction would lead to infinite embarrassment," he said.

The court ordered Bruggy remanded to the custody of the sheriff. There is only one more resort for Bruggy and that is the United States supreme court.

A gentleman speaking of the precautions being taken to prevent Vincent from committing suicide said: "If Vincent wanted to do away with himself he could do so, I believe, in spite of all the vigilance of his guards. He is a medical man and knows just the most effective and painless way to shuffle off this mortal coil. He need only press quite hard a certain place on his neck if it should become necessary for him to cheat the gallows. He knows this as well as I do, for I heard him speak of it long before he committed the deed for which he has been sentenced to death."

Vincent is glad he is back in his old quarters, but sorry to lose Baird. Baird, before the supreme court decision was made, shared Vincent's cell, but he was put with the other prisoners yesterday, and Vincent is alone.
